OTTAWA, June 26.

Davin has introduced a bill disfranchising the mounted police.

On Thursday the resolutions granting aid to the Hudson's Bay railway were passed without a division.

The supreme court has decided that Manitoba municipalities can levy an additional ten per cent on over due taxes.

Senator McDonald has introduced a bill giving the highest courts in the various provinces and the Northwest power to grant divorces.

Dewdney told Davin that no bill referring to the mounted police administration or conditions of service and pay would be introduced this session.

It was stated before the privileges and elections committee to-day that Langevin had been paid $20,000 by contractors McGreevey, et al.

Haggart told Davin on Wednesday that the government had considered the memorial of the Northwest assembly regarding immigration, but did not consent.

Brett and Betts have gone home. Before leaving they pressed the government to divide the Territories into two parts, each having an executive council, with one governor at Regina presiding over both. Abbott promised to consider the scheme.

On Monday Laurier moved a vote of want of confidence in the new government. On the grounds that the premier was closely connected with the C. P. R. and Thompson was not selected premier because of his religion. The government was sustained by 20 majority.

It is understood that no general bill regarding the Northwest will be introduced this session, but that an act will be passed prolonging the life of the present assembly another session. Also giving the assembly more power and the advisory council more responsibility.

The commons discussed Jamieson's prohibition resolution Wednesday. Taylor's amendment providing for a plebiscite was defeated by 185 to 7. An amendment providing for an enquiry into all phases of the liquor question by royal commission was carried by 105 to 88.

Watson enquired regarding the sale of the Indian reserve south of Edmonton, saying that the advertisement only appeared in a few western papers on June 9th. He thought the present was an inopportune time to sell, insufficient notice had been given and speculators had an undue advantage. Dewdney replied that notices had appeared for two months. He had instructed the surveyors not to give an exaggerated description of the land. If the offers at the sale were not reasonable the lands would be withdrawn.

On Tuesday Foster delivered the budget speech. The year's revenue was $38,350,000. Expenditure of consolidated revenue fund $36,213,737, expenditure on capital account $2,200,000. The principal tariff changes are the placing of raw sugar on the free list, which will reduce the revenue three and a half millions. The duty on malt will be increased a cent a pound which will make an increase of half a million in revenue. The excise duties on liquors will be increased 20 cents a gallon, adding $600,000 to the revenue. Excise and import duties on tobacco will be increased 5 cents a pound, adding $400,000 to the revenue. To bring the expenditure within the revenue great economy in public services will be exercised. The tariff changes have already taken effect.

WINNIPEG, June 26.

Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea were married in London, England on Thursday.

Harvard defeated Yale in the boat race at New London, Connecticut to day.

As a result of the removal of the duty the price of sugar has been reduced 20c a pound in Montreal.

Chipman, the new commissioner of the Hudson's Bay Company has arrived and assumed his duties.

Sir George Baden Powell and S. J. Dawson of Montreal have been appointed to represent Britain in the Behring's sea arbitration.

Reports of that Hugh John Macdonald, the late premier's son, and premier Abbott will be knighted, and Lady Macdonald be made a peeress, the title to descend to Hugh's son.

The supreme court has postponed delivery of judgment in the Manitoba school case until October. It is expected that Greenway will repeat the act regardless of the court's decision.

ON Friday, June 26th, B. Ross presented the BULLETIN with a plate of ripe strawberries, averaging three and a half inches in circumference. This is rather earlier than Mr. Ross has had them in previous seasons. The varieties are Cape, Jack and May queen. Considering Mr. Ross' uniform success with strawberries there seems to be no reason why they should not be grown more extensively here.

JAS. JOHNSTONE arrived from the end of the track this morning with his family and effects. Mr. Johnstone has rented The Cliff until he can get a building erected on the Main street lot recently purchased from John Cameron.

J. S. WALKER, C. P. R. land examiner, was in town on Thursday, accompanied by H. Luxton, son of the proprietor of the Free Press. Mr. Walker has been working from Poplar Grove north and were camped at the Black Mud this week.

A MILE trot, $10 a side, came off on the race track on Monday evening, "Handful," backed by Duncan McDonald and driven by A. Coghlan against, McCauley & Ibbotson's "Nigger," driven by M. McCauley. The latter was the winner.

EDMONTON Protestant public school—Pupils who have been promoted from Standard II. to Standard III. Maximum 310.—Alec McDougall 240; Maggie Henderson 224; Maud Lauder 196; Donald Ross 186; Mary Groat 185. E. Richardson, principal.

J. W. Montague of Winnipeg, brother of Dr. Montague, M. P. for Haldimand, arrived from the end of the track on Monday. Mr. Montague has been employed this spring as one of the Dominion government immigration agents in Dakota, but is here on private business. He left for the Rocky Mountain house on Wednesday.

THE oat crop is reported to be looking much better than a week or two ago; black oats particularly looking well. There will be a short crop of white oats, owing it is generally supposed, to the use of good looking but damaged seed, the damage being caused by the wet weather of last harvest. Wheat and barley could not look much better, some of the former being in the shot blade.

W. J. O. BOURCHIER, agent for the C. & E. railway at Calgary, seems to be very active in securing settlers for the Poplar Grove district, the centre of the C. & E. company's land south of Red Deer. Land prospectors who happen to meet Mr. Bouchier will do well to remember that he is an agent of a private company, interested only in a certain block of land, and that consequently it will be well to accept statements made by that gentleman regarding other districts along the C. & E. line with that fact in view.

T. HURSTON arrived from the end of the track on Friday morning. When he left on Thursday the rails were laid to the Big Stone creek this side of F. Lucas' farm and the bridge was being put in. Freight was being delivered at Peace Hills station, which is at the southeast corner of the hills about five miles beyond the farm and 45 miles from Edmonton. All the grading outfits were working between the Big Stone and the Black mud 12 miles out, a stretch of about 25 miles, and the grade was nearly finished.

McLeod, Maggie McLeod, Christina McKay, Lottie McKay, Lottie Coleman, Albert Fraser, Flora Fraser, George Kerouhan and Margie Price.

A sermon by Rev. Father Vegreville followed, and then the whole assemblage adjourned to the picnic grounds near Hutton's mill, where lunch was served. #### THE FUTURE.

The near approach to completion of the C. & E. railway renders it advisable that the question of its effect upon this settlement should be considered. In all its bearings. It is a general complaint that the advent of a railway into an old and previously isolated settlement such as this does not always fulfill the promises of the promoters or the expectations of the pioneers as to the benefits to be derived by them from its existence and services. It is a matter of common report that the advent of the railway to Prince Albert has tended to make previously hard times still harder, without as yet contributing any compensating advantages. Articles of ordinary import have not been materially reduced in price owing to high local railway rates charged on such classes of goods, while prices of home products are reduced by being brought into direct competition with outside products, which the lower railway rates on these classes of freight permits. In addition there either is nothing to export or there is a difficulty in finding a satisfactory market. Many of the people whose occupation for years has been freighting are now permanently out of work and have not yet had time to get into some other profitable line of business. Freight is now paid for in cash and all business is done on a cash basis, while cash is harder to get than ever. This may be an overdrawn picture but it is such as is drawn by people from Prince Albert themselves, and will answer for purposes of comparison and argument. Is the effect at Edmonton likely to be the same? and if so what means are to be taken to avoid such a state of affairs, and bring the business of the country to a paying railroad basis at the earliest possible date?

In the first place the circumstances preceding the commencement and completion of the C. & E. road differ very materially from those at Prince Albert. The latter place received a set back in 1885, from which it has not yet recovered. The same year marked a turn in the tide of prosperity for Edmonton. Good crops were reaped here in 1885, 1886, 1888, 1889 and 1890, the only partial failure occurring in 1887. This fact has been kept as prominently before the public as circumstances permitted. While Prince Albert published far and wide that the district was going to the dogs for lack of a railway, Edmonton kept the best side of its case out, and instead of bewailing disadvantages did what could be done to overcome them. As a result although Prince Albert cut the railway a year before Edmonton this place has already this season—before the railway has yet reached us—received an accession of population variously estimated at from 800 to 1000, and the cry is not "still they come," but "they have not yet begun to come." During the same period Prince Albert with a completed railway has received little or no increase of population. The incoming settlers have not brought much wealth with them, but they have brought enough for men of energy and industry, with the opportunities here offered, to do well for themselves and for the rest of the district. They at least have come free hand and square with the world. The benefit of this influx of population has been felt in every line of business and in the increased confidence which it has given everyone in the future of the country.

Another circumstance favoring Edmonton was the abundant crops of last year of which enough was purchased by the railway company for use this season to lower up considerably during the dull season of winter.

In the freighting business better prices have been paid this spring than for years past, so that although this is the last of that season the people engaged in it have as yet been benefited rather than injured by the approach of the railway. With the completion of course most of them will have to turn their attention to something else, and no doubt some will feel the change pinch for a while, but most of them are farmers, and look to an enlarged market for their crops to more than make up the loss of the freight to them. Regarding payment: it has always been the custom to pay a large proportion of the freight in cash, rates have always been proportionately higher here than at Prince Albert, so that if the business man has to pay all cash for freight he will pay lower rates, and get his goods through more quickly, safely and in larger packages. A feature of the freighting business at Edmonton was that the cash paid here for freight, and a great deal of other cash besides, was spent by the freighters for themselves and friends in Calgary in the purchase of supplies. With the advent of the railway the trade of the Edmonton district will be more concentrated at Edmonton than ever before.

So far then the railway will certainly be a benefit; but the main point is, how is this district of greatly increased population and production going to get the cash to pay its bills to the outside world for the groceries, clothing, implements etc., which it will require. Of those articles which can be cheaply, certainly and abundantly produced here we must raise more than we consume and must find a suitable market for the surplus. The experience of the past years has shown that this district is pre-eminently adapted to the production of cattle, oats, barley, potatoes, butter and eggs. Other products such as wheat and flax, horses, sheep, hogs, etc. can be raised here as well as in any other part of the Northwest or Manitoba, but the first mentioned are unquestionably our specialties. A good market for all these products exists on the British Columbia coast, which at present draws its supplies chiefly from Manitoba and California. We have an advantage in distance over Manitoba and in quality over California, so that our far western location ordinarily considered a disadvantage with a view to markets, is our great advantage, and the one upon which we can most confidently rely.

There may be no surplus of home products this year owing to the increase of population, but with the increased production of next year a market must be found. It is not too soon for enquiries to be set on foot as to what classes of produce can be shipped to the coast most profitably, and what are the conditions of quality, packing, etc., required. These important points, and a full knowledge of them at an early date, would certainly do much to stave off the depression almost naturally resulting from a sudden change to a new order of things, in which the local farmer has to compete for the first time with the outside world, but on the other hand has for the first time the opportunity to compete with it.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

THE supplementary estimates for the year ending June 30th, 1891—that is the statement of the sums required to complete the public services for the current year over and above the amount of the estimates and supplementary estimates voted last year—have been presented to parliament. The only item of strictly local interest is the mention of the sum of $3,500 "for preliminary expenses in connection with proposed McKenzie river and Peace river treaty." The rebellion of 1885 looms up in two places. Three children of James Payne, Indian farm instructor, who was murdered at Battleford, get $1,140, and "militia expenses in connection with the rebellion in Northwest Territories" $8,017. Northwest local government appears to the amount of $59,555 distributed as follows: Clerical assistance $600, stationery, telegrams and postage, $800, travelling expenses $1,000, messengers and caretakers $1,000, contingencies $1,600 light and fuel for legislative hall and government house $600, services of Jules A. Royal for translating Northwest Territories Gazette from 1st August, 1889 to 30th September, 1890, $280, schools $46,175. To provide for the amount required for the construction of a road from St. Albert to Lac la Biche $1,500. Further amount required for the maintenance of insane patients in the Manitoba penitentiary $6,000. This brings the expenses of local government in the Northwest Territories up to $266,215 during the current year, and increases the school expenses from $86,500 to $132,675. The Regina industrial school gets $5,400.

DAVIN vs. DEWDNEY.

THE Regina Standard in dealing editorially with Mr. Davin's second homestead resolution says: "The whole constituency must have noticed that during the first four weeks of the session little or nothing could be publicly heard of our member. We knew all this time that his old failing had overtaken him earlier in the session than usual, yet we continued up to this time, to exercise a forbearance the propriety of which we doubted. We have the most authentic information that Mr. Davin by reason of his having broken the pledge which he so publicly gave on the eve of his election, was incapacitated to attend to the public interests and to perform the various duties incidental to his position." While holding Mr. Davin's alleged breach of faith in quite as much detestation as the Standard the BULLETIN begs to submit that the personal charge preferred against Mr. Davin is not a refutation of his arguments in favor of the government carrying out its promises regarding second homesteads, and yet it is the only form of refutation attempted by the minister of interior or by what may be considered his organ—the Standard. The question interesting to the Territories just now is, not, did Mr. Davin break his temperance pledge, but, should or should not the government break faith with settlers regarding second homesteads? Settle that question and then deal with Mr. Davin's personal failings.

It appears from the latest papers that the new cabinet was not formed without some trouble. Chapleau it appears made a very decided kick for the premiership of Sir John Thompson and the portfolio of railways and canals for himself. It was only the definite promise of a reconstruction of the cabinet immediately after the present session in which his claims would be considered that induced him to take office in his present inferior position. Alluding to the rivalry between Sir Hector Langevin and himself he said that there was no personal enmity between them, but, he, Chapleau had been fortunate while Sir Hector had been unfortunate, and he now demanded the position and prestige to which his more favorable fortune entitled him.

The Free Press mentions the arrival of a flight of potatoes in Manitoba on recent south winds. The Free says that such bugs have come to Manitoba before but never appeared for second year, apparently being killed off by the cold winter.

DOMINION DAY.

Every preparation is being made for a big time on Wednesday next. The sports committee have arranged for a wider range of sports and a more liberal list of prizes than were ever before offered in Edmonton. The programme will commence at 9 a. m. sharp, and there will be no waiting for events or change in their order as published. If the competitors in any event are not on hand when that number is reached, it is struck off. The programme announces: Entrance to races 50c, boy's races free, games 25c. Three to enter or no race or contest. Judges on games and foot races, Jas. McDonald, Thos. Stewart, John A. McDougall; S. S. Taylor starter of the races. Entries to horse races $1. In races having three prizes 4 to enter and 3 to start or no race. In races having 2 prizes, 3 to enter and 2 to start. A grand stand to accommodate 300 people is being erected opposite the judges' stand.

A BAD DEAL.

An envelope containing a mixture of seeds, dirt, wheat and a very few oats was left at the Registrar's office this week, accompanied by the following letter from Col. Jarvis: "I send you a sample of some of the oats furnished by the Edmonton farmers to the C. & E. Co. Many of the contractors think they are a sample of the grain generally grown in the Edmonton district. I have seen lots of bags this spring just as bad as the sample I send you. I have no doubt the story will be published here, and I do not think it will be a very good advertisement for our country." Notwithstanding the sample of rubbish received or the bad impression that such a sample naturally gives outsiders regarding Edmonton's brag crop, it is still a fact that oats give a more prolific yield and the grain is of a better quality than in any other part of Canada. If the C. & E. co. were paid for oats and not rubbish it is a reflection on the fair dealing of a few of the settlers rather than on the capabilities of the district. The oats were purchased and stored in sacks, and consequently the receiving agent could not possibly know what was in every sack. This may have been taken advantage of by some parties to palm off rubbish. But on the other hand a large proportion of the oats purchased by our railway company were both heavier and cleaner than those they purchased in Manitoba—as all might and would have been had they been received in bulk so that they could have been inspected on delivery.

In view of the completion of the C. & E. railway the prices at outside points of such produce as this district is likely to yield a surplus of becomes a matter of interest. The Victoria Colonist of June 12th quotes oats at $45 to $47 a ton that is 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 a point or 70c to 85c a bushel, barley $40 per ton or 90c a bushel. Potatoes $20 to $25 a ton or from 60c to 21.05 a bushel, baked hay $20 to $22. Eggs, imported, 25c a dozen, home 30c, butter, roll, island, 32c to 37c a pound, California 60c to 65c per pound, best cattle 5c to 5 1/2c per pound, sheep 6c to 7 1/2c, hogs 8c to 9c, rubbers per pound 4c, celery per dozen 5c, cauliflower per dozen $2.50. The Vancouver correspondent of the Winnipeg Commercial quotes Manitoba roll butter at 23c to 25c and California at 28c to 30c. Eggs 12c to 20c a dozen. Oats $40 to $45 a ton.

The Dominion Illustrated of June 6th and 10th are to hand. The most notable illustrations are: The Foxglove bridge on the St. John river, N. B.; J. D. Hazen, M. P. for St. John; scene on the lake of Two Mountains, Quebec; ladies infantry drill company of Picton, Ontario; school of practical science, Queen's park, Toronto. Sir John A. MacDonald, in attendance; scenes at the volunteer review, Quebec. Hon. A. Lacoste, speaker of the senate of Canada; Kingston city hall and court house, old chapel at Toulouse, Quebec, etc.

The Winnipeg Commercial quotes oats at 40c to 43c in Winnipeg, or 32c to 35c to farmers at country points. Butter is 12c to 15c, eggs 12c to 15c per dozen.
